

Drug Education Resources

Many thanks to the organizations who provided the resources printed in this book. Use the list below to get more information on all of the materials presented in this publication. But most importantly, thank you for reading. Protecting our children has become increasingly difficult. Parents and educators need all of the resources that they can find to ensure that our future generations are prepared for adult life.

The production of this magazine was a combined effort of Law Enforcement Agencies, Government Agencies, and Business Leaders in the Triangle area. Please show your appreciation by supporting the businesses that have placed advertisements in this magazine as a show of support for the Wake County FOP #41 and their dedication to the children of Wake County.
